Bruce Erskine

Leather
Old Butter Factory Bellingen

Bruce first worked with leather in 1971 at Sydney's Argyle Arts Centre and has done so most days since, for the last fifteen years in Bellingen. Along the way he had workshops in Birchwood SA and Tenn, and taught in Montserrat WI and Vanuatu.

Bruce's work is represented in collections at the Powerhouse Museum and the National Gallery of Australia.

The Awl Leather label is well known for its range of footwear, bags, horse gear and specialty items, from medical shoes to instrument cases. There is always something unusual and interesting to see in progress.

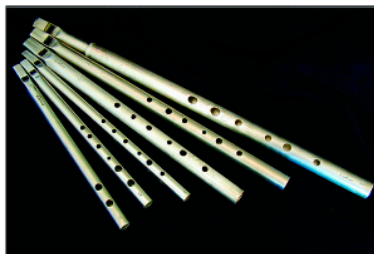

The leather shop carries a wide range of leather products, both local and imported.

Accordions Folk 'n MIDI

Repton, NSW 2454

Instrument maker
Whistle Maker
Restorer
Tuner
Performer

*This Accordion was totally restored for the movie 'Dark City'
Now on show in the USA*

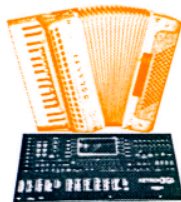

The restoration and re-tuning of accordions and concertinas is a specialised process which Christiaan has made his vocation for many years. Many older style instruments have been restored to their full potential and are now being played for pleasure as well as professional use. Some are used in films, theatre and television productions and being shown in museums.

To preserve the tuning and uniqueness of the instruments, Christiaan makes use of materials from the same age as when the instruments were built.

Beside tuning and restoration of musical instruments he also makes special Penny Whistles. These are made of aluminium and come in the keys of C/D soprano, G/A alto and the big D tenor.

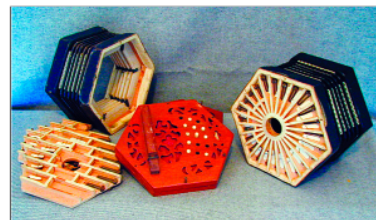

These whistles are much in demand and are handmade to order.

Christiaan Dolislager performs Australian and European music on the acoustic piano accordion as A Accordion A-La-Carte for functions, weddings, background music etc. He also uses MIDI sound modules to enhance the accordion for dancing and other rhythmic applications.
